

You can learn anything at Accor, as long as you have the willingness to learn.

There were these leadership programs, back then. And in those leadership trainings, apart from the theories and discussions, we also were given the opportunity to look across exposure.

And that's what I did. I did cross-exposure to several departments, such as Housekeeping, Front Office, Villas, Rooms, which basically allowed me to open my perspective into hospitality as well.

And I guess, that's also changed my mind about hospitality and staying there for a long time.

Utari Triandani

Director of Learning & Development, Accor Asia